- This will help everyone recognize the different things that are occurring to achieve a coordinated effort.
 - Prevention and Epi had the opportunity to speak
 - There was some good dialogue and an opportunity for folks to share concerns and hopes moving forward.
 - HRSA holds the Department responsible for the services individuals receive, so it is important to understand what the service delivery looks like, and what the challenges and the best practices are.
- The regional grantee monitoring has started.
 - One has been completed and there are two more slated for this calendar year.
 - Monitoring will be done a little differently, so maybe no two monitorings will look exactly alike.
 - Utilizing the same tools, but just trying some different ways to see if there's better ways to get to some of the information that we're looking to garner from the site visits.
 - Will incorporate epi profiles and discussions around the demographics in the area to assess if the services are meeting the needs as they're identified in the area and, if not, what can we do as a capacity building situation.
 - Department staff will also be attending some of the monitorings.
- The non-continuing grant application was submitted.
 - HRSA has moved from doing a full grant application every year to a 5-year grant that's good on a year-to-year basis based on assurances that efforts are still being met.
 - This is the second non-continuing grant and means they are currently in year three of the grant.
- The Clinical Quality Manager position has received candidates and interviews will be scheduled.
- The 2018 National Ryan White Conference will take place December 11-14, 2018 at the Gaylord Harbor Convention Center in Oxon Hill, MD. The Clinical Conference will precede the 2018 National Ryan White Conference, taking place December 9-11, 2018.

 - Jill Garland was asked to become a committee member and will be attending the meetings.
- Jill Garland was invited to a meeting with the Secretary of Health that was requested by the Zero Project.
 - Zero is a network of people with HIV and allies fighting for freedom from stigma and injustice. Zero is particularly focused on ending inappropriate criminal prosecutions of people with HIV, including for nondisclosure of their HIV status potential and/potential or perceived HIV exposure or, or HIV transmission.
 - Zero staff, AIDS Law Project, Philadelphia Fight, and other LGBT-related organizations attended.
 - They had a couple things to ask the Secretary, and although they were outside of the prevue of the Department of Health, the Secretary did provide a listening ear.
 - Zero Project is working to establish networks of people living with HIV and they're working on doing that in Pennsylvania as well as across the county.
 - They're calling it the Network Empowerment Project.
 - Designed to facilitate the creation strengthening of networks of people living with HIV, whether they're focused on advocacy, education, recreation, a provision of services or for mutual social support.
 - If the HPG is interested in having anybody from Zero Project attend and speak at the meeting, it can be arranged.
 - There could also be an opportunity for Zero Project to speak at the HIV conference that Pennsylvania is planning.

 - Working towards beginning HOPWA with the continuum of care coordinated entry.
 - Some counties already have the continuum of care coordinated entry, but they want all regional grantees working in the same manner.
