

pennsylvania
DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

HIV & AGING TRAINING

Thursday, December 5th, 2024

This virtual program will provide comprehensive information and skills required to provide high-quality care to individuals aging with HIV.

9:00AM - 10:30AM

Session 1 - Presented by Judith Lee, CRNP, AACRN, AAHIVS

*THRIVE Program/Center for Infectious Diseases
University of Maryland, School of Medicine*

Access Code: PACM

www.maaetc.org/events/view/27133

- Outline the normal aging process and its impact on persons with HIV.
- Identify the key components for the assessment of persons with HIV who are aging and describe their clinical significance.
- Describe the complications of HIV treatment in aging persons and how to manage them.
- Discuss the risks of polypharmacy in older persons with HIV and develop strategies to prevent and manage it.

10:30AM - 11:30AM

Session 2 - Presented by Thomas Laskow, MD

*Assistant Professor, Division of Geriatric Medicine & Gerontology
Johns Hopkins University, School of Medicine*

- Describe the specific needs of LGBTQ persons who are aging.
- Identify strategies for obtaining sexual health histories in older adults.
- Discuss prevention approaches for older persons with HIV.

11:30AM - 12:30PM

Session 3 - Presented by Lizzy Schmidt, MSN, CRNP

Nurse Practitioner, Clinical Training Consultant

- Define social determinants of health and their impact on persons aging with HIV.
- Discuss long-term care implications for persons aging with HIV.
- Outline resources and clinical solutions for persons aging with HIV.

12:30PM - 1:00PM

Featuring - Special Guest Speaker, Patricia Henry

Sharing Lived Experience and Personal Knowledge